

USAGE TIPS

If you select no (Ei on the screenshot) to any of the confirmation dialogs do remember to reselect the object to be modified before you continue. The previous is recommended so that the file manager will function correctly – and you will actually get to modify the item you want.

Crosslinker's Go will take you to places but if you remain unsure about your folder structure press

The button in question will open a bar which will show you the folder structure of a given path once you start typing the location into to it (for example /). The bar itself does not have functions other than showing folder paths and it can be hidden by clicking its icon again.